Hi co-authors,

I am forwarding an email that Andy Lindstrom just received from Science and you should have received as well. (I personally have not received any emails from Science at all yet.)

Right as I was leaving for the holidays, I received the remaining clearance reviews and the clearance from Andy Gillespie to submit our manuscript to the journal after I addressed review comments. The review comments all were easy to address, so I did so. Then on December 31, I submitted the attached manuscript and Supplemental Information (SI) to the journal Science. Unfortunately, my EPA password expired while I was on annual leave, hence my updating you today on my first day back.

So the attached file is the current form of the manuscript and SI. All clearance reviews have been addressed in this version and it is the version submitted to Science. When I first submitted, the journal status in the Science Submission Portal was "received" or similar and status changed to "to advisor" soon thereafter. It remains in "to advisor" status this morning.

Please don't forget to update your supervisors as appropriate.

As a sobering reminder, manuscript-submission statistics for Science suggest a high probability of rejection at this stage.

Nevertheless, Happy New Year and thanks for all your help--
John

Subject: Successful Submission of a Manuscript to Science (aba7127)

Manuscript Title: Nontargeted mass-spectral discovery of novel PFAS & their use to fingerprint legacy PFAS in New Jersey
Author: Lindstrom
Manuscript Number: aba7127

Dear Dr. Lindstrom:

You are listed as a coauthor on the above manuscript, which has recently been submitted to Science. According to Science policy, all authors must have seen and approved the submission of their manuscript. If you have seen the manuscript and approved its submission, no action is necessary.

If you have not read this paper or do not approve its submission to Science, please let us know as soon as possible. Please refer to the manuscript number listed above in any correspondence (you can just reply to this message).

You can see the status of your manuscript at any time by logging into your account at the Science Journals Submission and Information Portal at <https://cts.sciencemag.org>.

If you do not yet have an account, please go to <https://cts.sciencemag.org/scc/#/forgot-password> and use the email at which you received this correspondence because that is linked to your manuscript. Then, follow the prompts to set your password and login. After login, you can access your manuscript and monitor its status.

Once you are registered, we encourage you to link your account to your ORCID ID, an identifier that facilitates the correct attribution of your publications to you. To learn more about ORCID or to obtain an ORCID ID, visit their site at: <http://orcid.org>.

Your manuscript is now undergoing an initial screening to determine whether it will be sent for in-depth review. If the manuscript is sent to review, its status will change to "To Review".

Sincerely,
The Editors
